An attempt will be made to get a team together to make the trip at that time. There has been no tournament play on the local alleys in so long that the standard of the team's bowling has probably fallen off somewhat, but interest will probably revive as soon as inter-city matches are in sight.

POPE IS REPORTED TO BE SERIOUSLY ILL

Physicians Compel His Holiness to Go to Bed After Reception to Diplomatic Corps.

Rome, Feb. 28.—In spite of the fact that the Pope received the members of the diplomatic corps accredited to the Vatican, he is regarded as being seriously ill.

After the reception his physician compelled him to go to bed and administered warm drinks. His holiness is suffering from a severe cold. At a reception the Portuguese representative read an address of congratulation on the recent jubilee. This was the first reception to the whole corps during the pontificate of Pope Leo, and he felt constrained to make an adequate reply to the Portuguese address. At his conclusion he had to retire to his bed.

The tendency to exaggerate rumors of the Pope's health has increased since his jubilee celebration. When a report spread that the pontiff was indisposed the people added imaginative details, until it became bruited that he was in extremis, and the alarm was great. The admission at the Vatican that he was confined to his bed strengthened the reports, and it was only when it became known that he had received the diplomats that the panic subsided.

She fell part way down the stairs but did not realize that she was injured. Thinking that the numbness in her arm would soon pass away she went to her next class but the pain grew worse instead of better and Prof. William Norris, noticing her distress, excused her from class.

Miss Charlton then went to Supt. H. C. Buell and on his advice sought a physician. She went to the office of Dr. J. W. St. John who replaced the shoulder and made her as comfortable as possible. PLEASANT SOCIAL AT STATE SCHOOL

Epworth League of the Court Street M. E. Church Is Entertained by School Society.

Members and friends of the Epworth League of the Court street M. E. church spent Friday evening most happily as the guests of the Christian Endeavor society of the State School for the Blind. The invitation to join with the young people of the school in a joint social was accepted gladly and the two societies were more than pleased with the enjoyable gathering that resulted.

There were about sixty people in the visiting party, three carryall loads leaving the Court Street church shortly after 7 o'clock. Arrived at the institute, slips containing conundrums and answers were distributed and the persons holding the question and answer which went together were partners for supper. This proved an excellent way for getting acquainted and effectually did away with all formality.

An appetizing luncheon was served, reception style in the dining room and while one section was enjoying the repast, the rest of the party explored the building. The gymnasium was an especially popular place and everyone had a very good time.

Later in the evening the two societies gathered in the assembly room where an excellent musical program was given by members of the school society. The orchestra of the school played several beautiful selections, the excellent harmony being greatly enjoyed by the appreciative audience. There was also an exquisite vocal solo by Dan Roberts and a vocal duet, beautifully rendered by Dan Roberts and Roy Carter.

At the close of the program H. F. Bliss, at the request of the visiting society, expressed their thanks and appreciation of the delightful manner in which they were entertained. Good-nights were exchanged about 11 o'clock and the pleasant evening came to a close for the visitors with the jolly ride home.

COLLEGIANS ARE BADLY WHIPPED

CARROLL COLLEGE TEAM DEFEATED IN FAST GAME.

ALUMNI TEAMS TAKE ANOTHER

Girls' Teams Play, and Result Ties the Total—Carroll Plays Again Tonight.

Carroll college lost their first basketball game in this city by a score of 20 to 19. The drubbing was administered to them by the doughty high school five in the high school gymnasium last evening before an audience both large and appreciative. They were so appreciative that towards the last nothing short of cat calls and shrill whistles could satisfy the team they were attempting to cheer on was disconcerted by their efforts.

The visitors played a game that won them the admiration of everyone. In height they have a distinct advantage over the locals, and consequently in weight, but their extra beef availed them nothing against the superior passing and accurate covering of their opponents.

Played Pretty Game. From first to last the ball moved at a speedy clip, and there were a number of magnificent exhibitions both of passing and blocking. In its worst sense there was practically no dirty work, but the game was not clean. There were no slugging, rough and tumble blocking, and similar unclean tactics, but fouls were frequent, and the number of uncalculated fouls would have exceeded those chalked down. By treble consent the umpires pursued a lenient policy throughout the game.

In team work the high school men were deficient on several occasions. More than once a pass was lost while one of the players was indulging in a quiet dream. But in general the play was fast and the cheering loud.

Visitors Were Tall. Their additional inches worked to the advantage of the collegians throughout the game. Their air passes were rarely stopped, and on the referee's toss Zoyler, the towering center, invariably secured the ball. Zoyler came in for a good share of the applause that was bestowed upon the visitors. Cook and Glyer were also recipients of personal ovations.

Kerr, the captain of the collegians is languishing at Waukesha, the victim of an untimely attack of the grip. From past experience the high school players know Kerr as a slippery proposition, but while they acknowledge the disadvantage at which his absence puts the collegians, they do not believe that his presence would have materially altered the final score.

The victory is the more pleasant in view of the fact that when the high school team played at Waukesha on January 30, victory went to last night's vanquished five by a score of 25 to 23.

First on the evening's athletic program came a contest between the girls' high school five, and the teams representing the alumni. It was the fourth occasion on which these two teams have met this season. At the beginning of the evening the advantage in the series rested with the high school team. When the two halves were ended, the second being played in alternation with the boys' match the teams were again on an equal footing.

Victory was won by the graduates the score being 9 to 1. In team work and speed both undergraduates and alumni showed marked improvement. Passing was much cleaner and the speed throughout greatly increased. It is safe to predict that when the fifth contest takes place that it will be for blood. At least one hundred per cent. gain was indicated in their form last evening over their preceding mat....

QUIGLEY DEPLORES SOCIAL DEMOCRACY

Chicago Archbishop Says He Will Combat the Growing Influence of Socialism.

Social democracy received a shoulder blow from the Roman Catholic church this week when Archbishop Quigley of Chicago reiterated a statement which he had formerly made in Buffalo: "No man can be a Catholic and a social democrat."

In discussing the attitude which he would take toward socialism in his new Chicago field the archbishop said that at Easter time he would issue a pastoral letter, the subject of which would possibly be socialism, warning his people against accepting such doctrine. In his remarks it was made evident that he considered socialism and social democracy one of the movements which may endanger the faith of the Catholic church, unless cut short before it gains further strength. As was the case in the Buffalo fight against socialism preparations were made slowly and when the struggle began it was after a lengthy preparation, so in the Chicago crusade, if crusade there is, will not be started in haste. That Chicago is an eligible field for such a battle is proved to the archbishop by the success of a similar attack that was made under the leadership of Father Heister a year ago. That Father Goebel of St. Mary's church has no sympathy with socialism has been clearly indicated here in time past, one notable instance being his remarks before a Twilight club meeting a season or two since. In speaking of the subject yesterday he expressed entire approval of the utterances of Archbishop Quigley, and suggested that Janesville might not prove an unprofitable field for somewhat similar remarks in the near future.

"DARK HORSE" MAY BE THE CANADIAN

Knox, the Young Beloit Athlete, Is Kept Obscure by Line City Newspapers.

President Linger of the A. A. U. recently said that Coach Hollister of Beloit has a dark horse among the men he entered for the indoor track meet to be held at Milwaukee on March 7. The natural inference is that this dusky equine is Knox, who is entered for the shot put, the young Canadian who made so brilliant a showing in the triangular high school meet at Beloit a week ago.

It is amusing to notice the zeal with which the Beloit papers have aided to keep this unknown star in the dark, making only the briefest possible notice of a record in the shot put which was regarded as extraordinary, considering the conditions under which it was made.

One of the dailies of the Line City even went so far as to schedule Knox as a Beloit first year man. Which is true. But not in the first year of Beloit college, as would be supposed from that statement. He is in the first year of the business course of Beloit college academy. The only conclusion to be drawn from such veiling of the fact is that some one has hopes of working Knox into the conference meet at Chicago, academy men being barred. And Beloit stands as a Christian college.

Not that Knox would not make a brilliant showing in any company. His perfect form in the shot put was the one topic of discussion at the meet last Saturday. A man who recognizes an athlete on sight said "that boy is a comer."

Knox is becomingly reticent as to his ability. When questioned as to his training he said that he had never had "much of any." Finally he admitted having often seen George Gray, the well-known N. Y. A. C. shot putter, practice. That was in the days when Knox lived in Minn., and the New Yorker spent part of his time near Knox's home at Coldwater. For four years Knox has lived at Sault Ste. Marie.

Speaking of the coming season Knox said, "I came to Beloit because I wanted to be under Harry Gill. He is a fine trainer. If there is anything in me he can get it out. When I get through this spring under his train I will know pretty well what I can do."

Bad For the Skin. An Episcopal clergyman of Cincinnati was being shaved by a barber who was addicted to occasional speers. The razor manipulator cut the parson's face quite considerably. "You see, Jackson, that comes from taking too much drink," said the man of God.

Improvement in Lace Making. Torchon lace of any pattern can now be made by one machine, owing to a recent invention in Vienna.

Burns' Memory Still Dear. Fifty thousand persons visited Robert Burns' cottage at Ayr last year.

We are informed that the offerings in the Episcopal churches tomorrow throughout the state are to be devoted to the benefit of the sick and wounded union soldiers of our armies in the field. Let the protected at home remember their protectors abroad.

SALOONS ARE THE POOR MEN'S CLUB

INTEMPERANCE DISCUSSED AT BAPTIST MEN'S MEETING.

PROHIBITION STRONGLY URGED

Many Men Attend a Very Pleasant Gathering in Parlors of the Baptist Church.

"All Sides of the Drink Question—Except the Outside," was the suggestive topic discussed at the men's evening given under the auspices of the Young Men's class of the Baptist church in the parlors of that church last evening. Seven set addresses and a number of "free-for-all's" made up the delightful program.

Preceding the addresses, all of which were interesting in form and sound in logic, an excellent supper was served by the ladies of the church. About sixty men were seated at three tables which were arranged in the parlors in the form of a hollow square. The guests were very appreciative in their reception of the good things set before them.

In the absence of S. B. Smith, W. E. Clinton presided over the discussion. He explained that the male quartette was suffering with a cold and was therefore unable to render the song with which the post prandial was to have begun. He then introduced E. C. Bailey as the first speaker. In answer to the question "Is the Saloon the Poor Man's Club?" Mr. Bailey pronounced an emphatic "yes." In all of its characteristics, he said, it presents the things for which a man's social nature craves. The boy's "push" or "gang" makes its way there in the evenings when driven from the street corner by the police. From that it is but a step to begin drinking. Every effort is made by the saloon keeper to make the place pleasant and it is the place where the poor man naturally meets in the evening with other men for the exchange of views on all current topics. It is cool in summer and warm in winter.

What Doctors Say. Dr. R. W. Edden gave the Last Word of Medical Science. Medical authorities, he said, are agreed as to the high qualities of alcohol when used as a drug, in the formation of tinctures, as a solvent, or when used as an anti-toxin. When used as a beverage there is a difference of opinion. Of late years it has been definitely agreed that in its effect as a stimulant or a drink it should be used with as great care as the most poisonous medical remedies.

Wilson Lane was very skeptical as to the achievements of High License. After vividly describing the results of the two systems of high and low license he said that he could recommend nothing but no license. The two results which follow high license are a decrease in the number of saloons and the abolishment of the lower dives and grog shops.

E. N. Butterfield spoke on the question "Is Prohibition the Final Goal?" He outlined the steps which have been taken and are now being taken toward prohibition. In conclusion he advocated strong and decisive action against the saloon keepers on the ground that they have no right to place a snare in the way of the citizens of our land.

Government Liquor Dealing. Do we want a Dispensary System? was the question discussed by Bernard Palmer. Instead of answering definitely he described the system as it is in the different forms. In all of them liquor is sold only in bottles and can not be consumed on the premises. The three forms are those in vogue in South Carolina, Russia and Sweden. The two first are under government control, and the last is controlled by a company which must cut down its profits to five per cent. In favor of the dispensary system it is urged that it presents excessive drinking. Through keeping the places where liquor is sold free from loafers, no treating is possible.

Following Mr. Palmer's talk the meeting was given over to a short free-for-all. Those who commented on the ideas which had already been presented, added new facts and theories were T. O. Howe, John H. Jones, Wilson Lane, E. C. Bailey and Prof. Silzer, a former resident of Janesville who is now visiting in this city.

Rev. Vaughan then closed the evening's program. His subject was indicated on the invitations to the men's evening by an interrogation point. He commented on the speeches which had been made and said that they made plain two facts, first, that the saloon presents certain social features and second, that it is the source of much evil. Three remedies were proposed to diminish the number of the saloons to abolish them or to substitute home and public amusements for the saloon.

In Good Templars' hall on Thursday evening partial organization of a Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry was accomplished. Miss Haviland was chosen secretary and Mr. Wilcox master. Final steps will be taken this evening to perfect the organization.

To Ansel Holway is due most of the credit for the organization of the Grange. Mr. Holway is a national deputy of the Patrons of Husbandry, his home being in the state of Maine. He has been working in this district for about ten days, most of his efforts being directed toward the reorganization of the town of Janesville granges.

Last evening three ward meetings were held in various parts of the city by members of the social democratic parties. In general only routine business was transacted, and plans for spring election activities discussed. Word has been received from Edward, the Chicago socialist lecturer, that he will be unable to fill the three-night engagement which had been made with him for the first week of April. His lecture trip will take him into the far west at that time, so that it would be impossible for him to appear.

Paine's Celery Compound

RAPIDLY REPAIRS WASTED TISSUE. PUTS IT IN FIRM CONDITION, AND EXPELS WASTE POISONS FROM THE SYSTEM.

The tissues of the human body are rapidly wasted by fevers, and great quantities of waste poison are poured into the blood. The rapid breakdown of tissue and the charging of the blood with poisons, bring unfortunate victims to a condition of weakness and helplessness that is pitiable to behold. Thousands of young and old who have just passed the critical stages of typhoid, inflammatory, gastric, typhus, intermittent, and other forms of fevers, demand the closest attention and best treatment if life is to be saved.

With true candor, honesty, and earnestness we suggest and urge the use of nature's nerve food and nourisher, Paine's Celery Compound, the only medicine in the world that has proven its value as a builder of wasted tissue, a bracer of weak and irritated nerves, a never-failing blood purifier and enricher. Paine's Celery Compound has made tens of thousands well and strong; it has saved afflicted ones from the grave where everything else has failed. No other medicine so quickly fortifies feeble men and women; it gives them that robust health that makes life a joy.

SPECIAL SERVICE AT ST. MARY'S

FATHER WARD, OF BELOIT, TO BLESS STATIONS.

Donated to the Church Will Be Canonically Erected Sunday Afternoon.

Father M. J. Ward of Beloit will tomorrow afternoon canonically erect the new stations of the cross for St. Mary's church. This will be the last ceremony connected with the establishment of the many handsome decorations of the beautiful Catholic church on the hill. The services will begin at three o'clock and it is expected the attendance will tax the capacity of the edifice.

In the stead of the archbishop Father Ward has been delegated to bless and canonically perform the ceremony which the Catholic church follows in connection with the erection of the fourteen stations. He will be assisted by Father Gagan of Beloit and Father Goebel, the pastor of St. Mary's.

Order of Service
Following the prescribed form, the Veni Creator is first intoned, after which follows the Oration. Prayer then follows, after which the stations are sprinkled with holy water, and incensed, the officiating priest going from one to another. At each of the fourteen stations he says prayer and meditates upon the scene depicted on the pathetic journey from Jerusalem to Calvary. The congregation follows him in his thoughts as he pauses before each group.

Among the musical numbers will be Cujus Animam from Rossini's Stabat Mater, for the cornet and organ, Prof. Thiele and Miss Tessie Gibbons will preside over the two instruments respectively. The choir will give the Stabat Mater, O Salutaris by Gounod, and Tantum Ergo by Lambellotte. After the ceremony of canonically erecting the stations, Father Ward will preach upon the significance and history of the stations.

Artistic Groups
Only the stations were necessary to make the church architecturally perfect. Mounted on beautiful brackets, from under each of which peep two winged cherubs with sorrowful countenances, they relieve the only bare portions of the wall. The bases are placed at a height of seven or eight feet above the floor.

An Italian firm located in Chicago, the Drapato company, are the makers of the stations, each of which is a work of art. Unlike the stations which are usually seen in churches, they are not painted upon canvas, but are groups of four or more figures of statuary. The figures are about thirty-three inches in height, and are perfect in detail of posture, expression and garment. They are made of a plaster composition, colored in shades of ivory, gold, cream, and flesh.

Scenes Depicted
Each of the fourteen stations represents one of the scenes on the road to Calvary. In order they depict the following sorrowful incidents, Christ is condemned to death; He receives the cross; He falls the first time; He is met by His blessed mother; Simon of Cyrene assists him in carrying the cross; Veronica wipes His face with a towel; He falls the second time; He consoles the women of Jerusalem; He falls the third time; He is nailed to the cross; He dies on the cross; He is taken down from the cross; He is laid in the holy sepulchre.

Nearly $900 was expended in the purchase of the stations. The donors are Martin Ryan, Mrs. Schmidley, Miss Barron, Mrs. Anna Mahon, Fred Roesling, Sr., Miss Croak, Amelia Schmidley, F. J. Jerg, James Briarty, Rev. W. A. Goebel, John O'Hara, William Kennedy, Peter Cobeen, George Trenwith.

Owner of Several Houses.
Letter to Mr. H. G. Carter, Janesville, Wis.

Dear Sir: You own several houses. Your reason for painting Devco Ready Paint should be several times as strong as the man who owns but one. Lead and oil was good enough paint till the merits of zinc were found out. It was profitable to paint lead and oil—it was then—but not now.

The addition of zinc to lead makes Devco Ready Paint last twice as long and costs no more; costs less—a trifle less, not much. Lead and oil is mixed by hand; Devco Ready Paint by machinery. Might as well make one's shirts by hand as mix paints. Say it costs $100 a house to paint lead and oil; and it lasts three years.

Say it costs the same for Devco; which lasts six years—it will last ten years, under favorable conditions, unless you want to repaint to change the color.

The costs: lead and oil about $30 a year; Devco $15—probably less. Devco Ready Paint is sold by J. P. Baker.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVCO & CO.

A Layman's Lenten Sermon

Fourth day of Lent: Matthew xlii 2 verse: Then was brought unto Him one possessed of the devil, blind and dumb; and he healed him, in so much as the blind and dumb both spake and saw.

And all the people were amazed and said, Is not this the Son of David? But when the Pharisees heard it, they said: This fellow does not cast out devils, but by Beelzebub the prince of devils.

And Jesus knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every Kingdom divided against itself is brought to destruction; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand. And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how then shall his kingdom stand?

And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them? Therefore they shall be your judges.

But if I cast out devils by the spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you.

Or else, how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? And then he will spoil his house.

He that is not with me is against me, and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad.

We see that Christ, the son of God, cast out of a man possessed with the devil, his blindness and his dumbness. We see even that as he spoke and saw once more all the people were amazed, and said: Is not this the son of Joseph, of the house of David? They told this remarkable event until it reached the ears of the Pharisees. These unbelievers and misanthropes of the age promptly started the report that Christ through Beelzebub the fallen Archangel cast out devils and not through the power of God which he claimed.

Then came one of the most remarkable statements found in the New Testament. A statement that time has not changed but has more than verified. Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand.

How true is this statement? We are today living out the words and teachings of the testament from the heights of the Balkan mountains to the low lands of the South American isthmus, a living enactment of these proofs are today found.

Nations strive with nations, cities with cities, yea though every kingdom divided against itself verily it will be brought to desolation.

A New Electric Power Plant in Canada

The current to Montreal is sent over the long circuits at a pressure of 50,000 volts, on nearly five thousand poles from the adjacent forests, and the wire cables are of aluminum instead of copper. The circuits now up will carry 8,000 horse-power, and at least 30,000 horse-power is thus to be flashed to Shawinigan to the receiving station at Maisonneuve. The aluminum itself is being extracted by this power up in those remote woods, and other products are already being made or are in contemplation. The big electric generators, transformers, etc., are of American origin; and the chief engineers, Messrs. Wallace C. Johnson and Ralph D. Mershon, are men who have won their reputation in the United States. As noted above Quebec is at about the same striking distance from Shawinigan as Montreal, and hopes also soon to see the resources of its own beautiful Montmorency reinforced by this remarkable development, so far and yet so near.—From "Long Distance Power-Transmission in Canada," by Thomas Gomerford Martin in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for March.

Our Attitude Toward the Venezuelan Dispute

In Curacao I asked a leading merchant how the natives would regard American protection. "We prefer to be under the Holland flag," he answered, "for the reason that Willemstadt is practically a free port, and there is little likelihood that our government will ever become involved in war. We are greatly disturbed by the probability that a German Prince will succeed to the throne of Queen Wilhelmina should have no heir. Except the few Germans here, I know of no one who desires Germany as his sovereign state. Next to Holland, we want the United States."—J. C. O'Laughlin in The World's Work.

The March number of the Woman's Home Companion will be especially interesting to the housewife. There are five pages dealing with the newest fashions; there are many suggestions about spring cleaning, making new furniture, gardening, etc. In features, "How Modern Science Proves the Bible True," "What the Baptists Are Doing to Better Mankind," "How a Great City Is Kept Clean," "Early Wild Flowers," and "Della, Daughter of Mary," are especially valuable. The serial, "The Flight of Penella," comes to its thrilling end. "The Farm of the Dagger," is the title of the new serial by Eden Phillips. There are short stories by Frederick M. Smith and John H. Jewett. Altogether the number is a delightful beginning for the springtime of the year. Published by The Crowell Publishing Co., Springfield, Ohio; one dollar a year; ten cents a copy.

The Head of the Tobacco Trust

Mr. Duke, the head and organizer of the Tobacco Trust, is himself a very modest man, always willing to attribute to one or another of his energetic associates the credit for the various business coups that are accredited to the tobacco trust, but his business methods, bold to the point of audacity, have often startled some of the more timid of the American and Continental stockholders. He never hesitates to pursue to its legitimate conclusion any course that he embarks upon, and he has the reputation of being a business fighter who never asks quarter, though he frequently extends it. A few years ago, when reference was made to the two salaries of $50,000 per year which Mr. Duke was drawing as President of the American and Continental companies, he is reported to have remarked that he earned all the money that was paid to him by "avoiding the fool mistakes that the other fellows made."—From the Tobacco War, in Leslie's Monthly for March.

From the description given of the piece, it would seem that Grace George has unlimited opportunity for a display of varied emotions in her new play, "Pretty Peggy." Miss George's role is that of Peg Wollington, but at a time when the actress-to-be had her triumphs and her great love affair before her; when she had not yet maddened by contact with the world and while her laughter and her tears still lay very close together.

"Tut!" answers Peg, "you had better stay to supper and run through a beefsteak."

GRACE GEORGE AND ANNIE WARD departed widely in this form from other stories of "the Wollington" introduces her heroine at the age of seventeen in Madame Violante's circus, Dublin. There Miss George frolics in the highest way, exchanging repartee with her enemy, George Anne Bellamy, jesting with her mother, and keeping the dignified and distracted David Garrick pendulating at the end of a trapeze. Later she is shown as a woman, but still sufficiently spir-

At first the earl fumes, declaring his rank very possibly. Peg drolly holds herself aloof. Then he argues, Peg is bold and rather witty. "The only difference this wedding will make," height of the dramatic passion in the next act, when she discovers that David Garrick, while courting her, has been visiting Paris frequently in company with another woman. She confronts the two in superb rage, tearing them with the weapons of scorn and wit. Garrick throws himself upon her mercy. "I haven't deceived you," he avers. "I'll marry you today."

"I wouldn't marry you David Garrick," returns the girl. "If you were the only man in England." From this scene the piece progresses to a tragic denouement in which a stage novelty of much importance is introduced. Miss George is said to be an impressive Peg, throwing the shadows of strong emotionalism upon the background of her captivating youth and ingenuousness.

CLEAN CURE

Young Milwaukee Society Woman.

TEN thousand cured women have written to tell how Wine of Cardui bestows the blessing of health on every woman who takes it, rich and poor alike. Mrs. Helena Blav, No. 123 Seventh Street, Milwaukee, Wis., is one of the young women whom Wine of Cardui has rescued from a life of suffering. She writes:

The woman who has suffered from female weakness should do anything within reason to secure health. Wine of Cardui is the medicine that appeals to reasonable women—women who hold operations and cutting in horror—women who know that Nature is the best physician. Wine of Cardui gives women back their health by giving Nature a chance to build up the wasted and diseased tissue. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow and Nature, when relieved of the drains or of the poisons in the system, makes the functional organs strong and healthy again.

"Wine of Cardui is certainly 'women's best friend' and I am pleased to give my experience with it. A few months ago I caught a severe cold, having been out in inclement weather, which settled all over me, particularly in the abdomen. I was in almost constant pain. I consulted a physician and took his medicine for a month and without any relief. I then decided I would try your medicine and it was a lucky day for me when I did so. I noticed a change in a few days and felt encouraged to continue taking Wine of Cardui, and my patience was rewarded, for in two weeks my pains had left me and I felt like a new woman."

Any woman who is silently suffering untold pains because she is too sensitive to undergo a physician's examination and treatment can find no excuse for not securing relief when Wine of Cardui is offered to her. There is no publicity to deter her. She can take Wine of Cardui in the privacy of her home, with as much assurance of a final cure as though a dozen doctors recommended it. Many physicians do recommend Wine of Cardui to their patients.

Why not get a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST
Snow tonight and cold wave coming.

THE WORLD ABOUT US

Two ladies, one from the north, the other from the south, were discussing recently that large topic, the great outside world.

Both were intelligent and well-informed, but both were creatures of environment, and they soon discovered, that while fast friends, that they had but little in common, so far as personal experience was concerned.

One of them had the dialect and easy going indifference developed by climate and association in the land of orange blossoms and tropical luxuries, while the other talked vigorously and emphasized assertion forcefully inspired by rugged climate and more strenuous surroundings.

The discussion very naturally drifted into the race problem, and after finding that they could not agree as to the best method of solution, the southern woman said:

"Well, Lizzie, let's not talk about it any more. We are a thousand miles apart so far as distance is concerned, and we are about as widely separated in opinion. The problem with you is largely theoretical, and necessarily so, while with me it is an ever-present issue. Time and the south will settle it in the end. You know, we live in a little world by ourselves to large extent, and life is very largely what we get out of close surroundings."

There is much sound philosophy wrapped up in the simple statement that close surroundings represent to the great mass of humanity their knowledge of life, and it is well that such is the case. It contributes to contentment and every day happiness.

The farmer who lives for half a century on the same farm, shut in by the same familiar horizon, and seldom going beyond the confines of the canopy that encloses his little world, represents the large class of reliable and prosperous artisans who bring to the country stability and character.

He is familiar with every tree, and every knoll and valley in the little enclosure is like the face of an old friend.

He has greeted the sun as it came up from behind the same hill, and watched it as it disappeared back of the grove where he played in boyhood, until he can forecast the weather with almost absolute certainty.

Every house in the neighborhood is a landmark, and the history of every family, an open book.

He has an absorbing interest in the little world around him, and the associations are so sacred that they enter largely into the warp and woof of his life.

When he visits the city, where all is bustle and commotion, he turns away with a sigh of grateful relief and thanks God for the quiet of his little world, whose possession is as tangible as though he held a title deed to all the land in sight.

Many an old man and woman, who have struggled together from childhood, until the frosts of time have whitened locks, and wrinkled faces, have sacrificed the comfort and all the happiness of declining years, by forsaking the old environments and seeking a home with children where the remnant of life may be spent in new surroundings, and where modern comforts may be enjoyed.

It is always pitiful to watch them as they try in vain to adapt themselves to new environments. From an active busy life full of care and responsibility, to a life of idleness, with nothing to engage either mind or hand.

It is not at all surprising, under these conditions, that physical and mental weakness develop.

There are no relatives so close to old age, as the neighbors of a lifetime, and there is no home, however luxurious, that compares to the old farm house where the battle of life has been fought, however uneventful the life may have been.

The life of business that engrosses the son at fifty, is nothing to the father at seventy-five, unless he has been actively engaged in business himself, and the whirl of social life that is so fascinating to the daughter, is a nightmare to the mother of more quiet surroundings.

More old people will fill out the full measure of life, retaining mental and physical faculties to the last, when more of them are content to retain their property and the old home until the final summons. The little world close at hand is a life promoter.

There is a mountain peak on the Mexican border, where the eye takes in at a glance the surrounding territory for a hundred miles in all directions. The wide stretch of table lands, and white capped crests, form an imposing panorama, but the absence of vegetation and the wild uncultivated waste, produces a feeling of loneliness, akin to the experience that comes in a large city where faces and surroundings are unfamiliar.

Looking out from this mountain peak and taking in the vision through the clear atmosphere of a bright winter morning, is invigorating, but far from satisfying. The field is too large, and you turn aside with a feeling of relief, to take up the work of life contentedly in more prescribed environments.

The mind sometimes attempts to take in the world at large. Taught with the rapidity of light makes a tour, touching remote corners and awakening sympathy for conditions that are untoward. The importance of great principles is recognized and the brotherhood of man in a sense appreciated. But the realm is too vast, and common place every day occurrences absorb attention.

There is nothing deplorable about these conditions, for the most effective work is accomplished in the workshop close at hand.

The old man and his wife in the old house on the farm are in their best estate. They are working out a destiny that could not be wrought under other environments. They have a right to think that the best place on earth is within the confines of their surroundings. This spirit begets loyalty and faithful service.

The man in town where his home and interests are represented, is the better citizen for believing that he lives in the best town in the land. If conditions are not ideal he is interested in improving them.

The citizens of Janesville possess a goodly heritage, which many of them do not half appreciate. It is the best city in the state for a home and when the responsibility of citizenship is fully appreciated it will be one of the best governed cities in the land.

The mission of life is a sacred mission. If the motives that inspire action are good motives the influence is helpful and wholesome but the sphere of action is limited.

Life is so uneventful to the great mass of humanity that we live out the measure of existence and depart without creating much commotion, and yet within the little circle where the years are spent is a field of rare opportunity for work.

When every garden is well cultivated, there will be no waste places and the world about us will blossom like the rose.

INTERURBAN RAILROADS

Among the prominent features of the new century, and one of the most important, is the advent of the interurban railway system. It is doing more to develop the country districts and smaller towns than all other influences combined.

It is perfectly natural that southern Wisconsin should share in these benefits, and that Janesville being the county seat of one of the best counties in the state, should be interested in the enterprise. The Rockford and Beloit line is demonstrating that from a business standpoint the investment is a good one, and it is not surprising that rivalry has developed on the contemplated line between Madison and Janesville.

The Gazette recently published an ordinance asking for a franchise in the interests of Janesville capital, and on another page of this issue will be found a similar ordinance in the interests of the promoters of the Beloit and Rockford line.

The first due to be acted upon at the next meeting of the council while the second will be presented two weeks later. It is reasonable to suppose that one and possibly both will meet with favorable consideration, and it is just as reasonable to conclude that but one line will be built.

Other things being equal the council will be asked to consider conditions as well as franchise and it remains to be seen whether home enterprise and the encouragement of local investment will be taken into account.

The Southern Wisconsin incorporators are the first in the field and much of the preliminary work has been done. They possess the ability to carry out any contract which they may assume, and it would be a credit to the city to localize the enterprise. The Rockford and Beloit company has also demonstrated ability to construct and operate one of the best roads in the state. Both corporations are good, but Janesville for Janesville is a good maxim to observe.

PRESS COMMENT

La Crosse Press: The report of the legislative coal investigating committee reads as if it had been written by the coal dealers themselves.

Gillett Times: After a day in Milwaukee this week in the open, the conviction is strong within us that incog. is the better way. To be liked unto the "Reuben" is too much.

Marquette Eagle: Frog raising is to be gone into on a large scale by an Oshkosh man. As a usual thing there are enough croakers in the state without special cultivation.

Milwaukee Sentinel: The game warden may succeed in stampeding the senate, but if the senate should happen to take a hand in the stampeding game, where would the game warden be?

Milwaukee News: It is suspected that the United States senate is not so anxious to untangle itself as it would like to make the country believe. It's much easier to kill off legislation in a deadlock than it would be to dispose singly of the bills which it is desired to squelch and it's a mighty slight less risky.

Madison Journal: If it can be legally arranged, Madison's mayor should certainly be paid a salary. There is no valid reason why and business or professional man capable of filling the office of mayor should be asked to devote a large share of his time to the duties without proper remuneration. Moreover, there is no economy in it.

Neenah News: After the primary election bill and tax law have passed the legislature, there would seem to be no valid reason why the civil service bill should be denied its innings. Every law that has as its ultimate better public service, by better public servants, ought to be placed on the statute books and kept in force.

Racine Journal: The voting by direct vote of the people on such offices as state bank examiner, dairy and food commissioner, commissioner of labor, state oil inspector and state veterinarian, members of state board of control, and game warden, should be incorporated in the primary election measure. Let us have reform as is reform.

La Crosse Republican and Leader: It is the duty of the state to prevent child labor. A child up to fourteen years should be at school and not compelled to turn the weary wheel of toil, stunting his body and checking the development of his mind. Child labor is a shame to the present generation and will be a curse to future generations. It should be stopped.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

The structural iron workers of the Pittsburg, Pa., District, which takes in all points within a radius of 135 miles of that city, struck against an alleged violation of the agreement on the part of the American Bridge company. CADETS TO CHANGE THE DRILL NIGHT

Christ Church Organization Will Meet Hereafter on Monday Evening—

Association Plan Rejected. Beginning this coming week the Christ church cadets will drill on Monday evenings. It has been found that Tuesday is not a favorable evening on which to get all the members together, and it is believed that an improvement in attendance will result from the change in the drill evening.

For some time past a project has been under advisement to transfer the cadets' organization to the Y. M. C. A. Directors of both organizations have held conferences together regarding such action, and for a time such a step seemed imminent. The project was dealt its death blow this week, and the cadets will remain as formerly under the patronage of Christ church.

Under the command of Capt. Bernard Palmer the new manual has been thoroughly mastered, and great improvement shown in the drill of the company.

The jury sided with the plaintiff and gave her a verdict for $300.

OF UNTOLD VALUE

The Information Contained in This Gentleman's Statement Is Priceless.

The hale, hearty, the strong can afford to toss this paper to one side impatiently when they read the following but any sufferer in Janesville who has suffered hours of torture caused by kidney complaint will stand in his own light if he does not follow the valuable advice offered here:

Mr. W. Samp of 412 Euclid avenue, proprietor of the largest rock quarry business in Beloit says: "I had trouble with my kidneys for many years. It consisted mainly of a lame and aching back and there were occasions when I had such severe attacks that I could not get out of the house for two or three weeks at a time. I was then practically helpless for it was painful to move. At other times it assumed a milder form being a dull aching across my kidneys, used medicines of different kinds but I never found anything that gave the satisfaction Doan's Kidney Pills gave. This remedy is worthy of a high recommendation and it is a pleasure for me to endorse it as doing all that is claimed for it."

Just such emphatic endorsements can be had right here in Janesville. Drop into the People's Drug Co.'s store and ask what their customers report.

WILL DISCUSS DEPENDENCIES

UNCLE SAM'S FOREIGN POSSESSIONS TO BE DESCRIBED.

SOCIAL UNION MEETS TUESDAY

E. N. Butterfield Will Lead Monthly Meeting of Club - Program Has Been Prepared.

What the United States should do with Hawaii, the Philippines, Cuba, Porto Rico, and adjoin other more or less desirable islands which were considerable of a problem for Uncle Sam to solve, was the one great topic of discussion a few years since. Having decided what to do, the subject has been dropped. Tuesday evening it will be taken up again.

Interesting Subject
Commercial and Industrial Conditions in our Foreign Dependencies is the theme for discussion at the meeting of the Social Union club this coming week. E. N. Butterfield, the leader, has prepared a program which promises to be of unusual interest in throwing light upon one result of the policy which was so much a matter of question not long ago. In addition light will be thrown on the future possibilities of these lands.

From Political Standpoint
After supper, which will be as usual served in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium by the Woman's Auxiliary, A. E. Matheson will open the discussion. His topic is the Political Outlook. Following him A. M. Fisher will speak of the Industrial Possibilities, and William Lane of the Commercial Possibilities.

Opportunity Presented
Opportunities for Young Men will be presented by M. Erickson, and another phase of the same subject, the Young Man's Preparation will be treated by G. M. Brace. Rev. R. M. Vaughan will close the discussion with the theme What We Owe Our Dependencies.

LOCAL PERSONAL PICK-UPS

No Wheels Yet: Chief Klein has received no word yet regarding the new wheels and axles ordered for the aerial truck. He expected to receive them before this time and have the changes made to the truck.

Bridge Washed Out: The St. Paul trains on the Mineral Point division have been delayed the last day or two on account of a bridge being washed out between Calumet and Belmont. Two bents of the bridge were washed out and the passengers had to be transferred. The Northwestern had a freight wreck yesterday at Calumet which tied up traffic for a time.

Wind Was Strong: The strong wind this morning unrooted a portion of the old cotton factory building across the raceway. A portion of the tin roof about fifty feet square was torn off the west end of the building.

Singing Society To Meet: There will be a general meeting of the Concordia Singing society at the American house Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Business of importance is to be transacted.

Honored Richards: At the state Y. M. C. A. convention at Marinette yesterday Dr. P. T. Richards of this city was named as one of the members of the committee on resolutions. Carroll W. Smith of Beloit college was appointed another member of the same committee. The convention will close tomorrow. Senator J. M. Whitehead will deliver one of the final addresses.

Brick Arrives: Brick for the new building to be erected by J. M. Bostwick for Jassett & Echlin, has begun to arrive. The construction will be started as soon as possible after spring sets in.

Edgerton Buyers: The Edgerton contingent, it seems from the report were very much in evidence at the Chicago horse sale this week. Mr. Mabbett purchased two at fancy figures, either of which will make it very interesting for the fast stepplers owned in Wisconsin. The horses passed through the city on the cars yesterday.

Good Market: The Chicago market for all classes of horses is unusually good this spring. Heavy draft horses are in demand; carriage horses that have some speed command fancy prices being hard to obtain. Good road horses are much sought after. In fact the market is reported strong for all kinds.

Secures Plenty of Seed: P. Hohenadel Jr., is home from a trip to Nebraska after sweet corn seed and was fortunate in securing a good supply of the best quality which will be sent here at once, so the growers can get a supply when they need it. Mr. Bellhaz, the superintendent of the factory, has been out securing acreage contracts for corn and cucumbers and has secured 3000 acres. The outlook for the factory for the present year is very bright and Mr. Hohenadel is preparing for a heavy pack. The factory projects at Watertown and Monroe will probably be dropped for this year.

Buys A Livery Stock: Messrs. Snyder and Babcock of Rockford, proprietors of the West Milwaukee St. livery stable yesterday sold out the business to Alvah Maxfield, who will conduct it in the future.

Tower and Tank Completed: The new tower and tank at the county house which was ordered by the county board to furnish fire protection for that institution is about completed. The tank was filled with water Thursday in order to test it and as soon as the piping is completed it will be ready for use. The tower and tank cost almost four thousand dollars and will furnish almost ample protection in case of fire.

Leak In Tank: The new tank built for fire protection at the county farm sprung a leak after it was filled on Thursday and had to be emptied. The leak will be repaired and the tank made ready for inspection by the county building committee on Monday.

Last week of our special clearing sale. T. P. Burns.

WISCONSIN BAR ANNUAL REPORT

VOLUME IN NEARLY READY FOR PUBLICATION.

WORK DONE BY A. A. JACKSON

He Has Rendered Valuable Service to the State Bar Association, by Compiling Reports.

A. A. Jackson is devoting a great deal of time at present to compiling the material for the annual report of the State Bar association and getting it ready for publication. Mr. Jackson is chairman of the state publication committee and has had charge of the publication of these reports for the past four years.

History of the Bar

The history of the bar of Wisconsin is an interesting one and these records which preserve something of that history are volumes, the value of which will increase with the years. The first report was compiled, edited and published by Judge Strong in 1883 and contains memories of many of the pioneer lawyers of the state.

There was no succeeding publication until three years ago when Mr. Jackson was made chairman of the publication committee. Since that time a volume has been issued annually, the one now in process of preparation being the fourth one published under Mr. Jackson's supervision and the fifth one in the entire series.

What The Volumes Contain

The same general plan has been followed in all these four volumes. Each one includes the proceedings of the state meeting of the Bar association, the constitution, by-laws, list of members and memorials to the deceased lawyers of the state, whose deaths have occurred within the year. Half tones of these deceased members are secured as far as possible for the illustration of the books. It is Mr. Jackson's plan to embellish this year's volume with half tones of all those who presented papers at the state meeting.

Report Was Complete

The first volume published by Mr. Jackson was more than an annual report as it covered the ground from 1883. It contained memorial notice of about one hundred lawyers with illustrations of sixty-six. It is thought that these brief sketches of the early lawyers of the state and the preservation of their likenesses will prove of great value in the future.

Will Re-Publish Old Report

For this reason Mr. Jackson has succeeded in interesting the state association in having another edition of the book compiled by Judge Strong printed. This book is now out of print and the supply has long since been exhausted, there having been only a small number in the first place. The first edition was not illustrated, but Mr. Jackson intends that the new edition shall contain portraits of the pioneers, to whose memories tribute is paid in the volume. He has offered to do the work, donating his services and the state association is to stand the expense of publication.

The Last Report

The latest volume, which will contain a complete account of the state meeting held at Milwaukee last week, will include 250 pages of material and will be extensively illustrated. There will be 500 volumes in the edition and the manuscript will be in the hands of the printers in the near future. The volumes are bound in cloth, the binding of the entire set of records being uniform.

PROGRAM FOLLOWED

SPLENDID SUPPER

Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church Held an Interesting Meeting.

An unusually pleasant meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church was held in the church, Friday evening. Tea was served at six o'clock and the ladies had the pleasure of entertaining two guests of honor, Miss Faye Patten, of Pipestone, Minn., and Rev. J. T. Henderson, both of whom celebrated the anniversary of their birth yesterday.

When Rev. Henderson was pastor of the Pipestone Presbyterian church and it was discovered that the birthday of one of his parishioners also fell on the twenty-seventh of February they adopted the custom of celebrating the anniversary together. This year Miss Patten is studying music under Liebling, in Chicago and she accepted Rev. and Mrs. Henderson's invitation to renew the custom by coming to Janesville. They enjoyed their birthday supper as guests of the Woman's Missionary society.

Good Supper Served

The long table, spread in the church dining room, was beautified with a great bunch of pink roses and about forty people enjoyed the excellent repast. It was a chicken pie supper and the menu was quite elaborate.

Miss Lizzie Richardson had charge of the supper and she was assisted by Mesdames James Waddell, Silas Kent J. C. Kline, C. S. Totten and Miss Mamie Totten.

The Evening's Program

After the supper there was a brief social session and then the company assembled in the parlors for the evening's program. Miss May Clark, the president of the society, presided.

Miss Louise Crosby was the leader and the subject for the meeting was the fifth chapter of Via Christi, Miss Crosby read the old prayers of that time which extended from 1600 to 1800 and then gave a brief account of the birth and growth of the missionary movements of that time.

Birth of Missionary Movements

Miss Crosby's informal talk was very interesting, mention being made of the founding of the first missionary society in the Protestant church, the Society for Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts and of the society for the Promotion of Christian Knowledge which was the origin of the present publication society of the church of England.

Miss Lizzie Richardson gave some interesting facts about Luther and the progress of missions was traced in various countries. Miss Lizzie Patterson told of the work in North America, Miss Emma Paulson, South America; Mrs. C. S. Crosby, India and Miss Purcell, Africa.

Grand Old Hymns

As a part of the musical program Luther's favorite hymn, "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," and another of the great hymns of that time, "Jesus Shall Reign Where'er the Sun," were sung. Miss Louise Hanson presided at the organ.

AMATEURS PLAN TO VISIT BELOIT

WILL REPEAT THE PINAFORE PERFORMANCE AFTER LENT

FOR NEW HOSPITAL BENEFIT

Rev. Father Ward, of Beloit, Requests a Visit from the Janesville Company.

Directly after Easter, the local amateurs who presented the comic opera, "Il M. S. Pinafore," for the benefit of St. Mary's church in this city recently will go to Beloit and repeat the production. On this occasion the proceeds will be devoted to the fund which Beloit Catholics are anxious to raise in order to secure a new hospital.

At Father Ward's Request

Rev. Father M. J. Ward, pastor of St. Thomas' church of Beloit, has been instrumental in securing the "Pinafore" performance for Beloit. He was very anxious to have the company of Janesville people go to Beloit immediately after they appeared here but it was impossible to make the arrangements for the trip before Lent and he finally had to be contented with the promise of a visit after Easter.

Father Ward has a double interest in the coming production. He always keeps in close touch with the people of St. Mary's church and takes a personal interest in all their achievements. The cause for which the opera is to be given in Beloit is also very dear to him.

To Secure Hospital

This worthy object in which the Janesville people are asked to assist by contributing their services in the securing of a Catholic hospital. The Sisters of St. Mary of Chicago have made a proposition in which they offer to open and conduct a general hospital in Beloit if the people of the city will contribute a site and a certain amount of money.

It is this bonus which Father Ward is now endeavoring to raise. He has subscribed liberally himself and is doing everything in his power to interest other people so that the proposition made by the Sisters of St. Mary.

Young People Pleased

Inasmuch as Father Ward is exceedingly popular in this city the young people in the Pinafore cast are glad of the opportunity to please him and to assist him in a worthy cause. They also anticipate that there will be a great deal of fun connected with the trip incidentally.

With the hope of awakening more lively interest in athletics another track meet is being held in the Bevoitt college gym this afternoon. Coach Hollister planned the event with a dual purpose. The contestants are to be the four classes of the college. This will give him a line of the possibilities of the raw material. Incidentally it is hoped that the proceeds of the meet will be sufficient to pay the expenses of a team to compete in the A. A. U. meet at Milwaukee next Saturday.
